

CITY OF SAN DIEGO ETHICS COMMISSION

Office of the Executive Director

MEMORANDUM

DATE: March 4, 2010

TO: Chair and Members of the San Diego Ethics Commission

FROM: Stacey Fulhorst, Executive Director

SUBJECT: Contribution Limits for Political Party Committees
Docketed for Ethics Commission meeting on March 11, 2010

On February 16, 2010, United States District Court Judge Irma Gonzalez issued an order granting, in part, plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction in the matter of Thalheimer v. City of San Diego. Part of the order stated that "[T]he City is preliminary enjoined from enforcing Section 27.2950, to the extent that it prohibits candidates from soliciting and accepting any contributions from political parties. The Court stays the preliminary injunction as it applies to this provision until further order of the Court, so as to allow the City time to provide an alternative limits on the contributions." In other words, the Court is requiring the City to allow political party committees to make contributions to City candidates, but is also permitting the City time to establish appropriate limits for such contributions.

At this point in time, the Thalheimer litigation is still pending, and it is unclear what permanent changes will ultimately be required. In the meantime, the City must move forward and adopt limits for contributions from political party committees to City candidates. In this regard, the Commission may wish to make a recommendation to the Rules Committee and/or the City Council concerning an appropriate limit on such contributions.

In considering this issue, the Commission may want some insight into the reasoning behind this aspect of Judge Gonzalez's decision. On page 18 of her Order, Judge Gonzalez noted that the U.S. Supreme Court "has recognized a sufficient anticorruption interest in preventing political parties from acting as conduits for large donors wishing to gain influence over candidates." In citing to a 2001 Supreme Court decision [Federal Election Commission v. Colorado Republican Campaign Committee], Judge Gonzalez noted that the contribution limits upheld in the Colorado case reflected "an effort by Congress to balance (1) the need to allow individuals to participate in the political process by contributing to political parties that help elect candidates with (2) the need to prevent the use of political parties 'to circumvent contribution limits that apply to individuals.'" Judge Gonzalez also cited to a more recent U.S. Supreme Court decision [Randall

v. Sorrell], which criticized Vermont campaign finance laws, in part, because contributions limits for political parties were no higher than those applicable to individuals.

Staff has prepared the following draft language for the Commission's consideration, leaving blank the amount of the contribution limit, as follows:

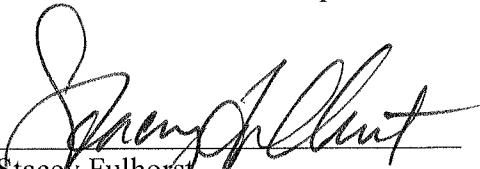

§27.2934 Political Party Committee Contributions to Candidates

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 27.2935, 27.2936, 27.2950, and 27.2951:

- (a) A political party committee, as defined in California Government Code section 85205, shall not be prohibited from making contributions to a candidate or controlled committee in a City candidate election, but shall be subject to the contribution limits set forth in subsection (b).
- (b) It is unlawful for a political party committee to make, or for any candidate or committee controlled by a candidate to solicit or accept, a contribution that would cause the total amount contributed by the political party committee to the candidate and the candidate's controlled committee to exceed $ _____ for any single City candidate election.

As with the Commission's previous considerations of contribution limits, the issue here is one of balancing First Amendment rights with the City's interest in preventing corruption and the appearance of corruption. As discussed above, the City's interest in preventing political parties from acting as conduits for large donors wishing to gain influence over candidates must be weighed against the right of individuals to participate in the political process by contributing to political parties that help elect City candidates.

For purposes of comparison, staff has prepared a chart identifying the contribution limits in place for individual contributors and political party committees in the country's fifteen largest cities. Also attached is a chart delineating California's contribution limits, and a chart prepared by the National Conference of State Legislatures containing relevant information (in the first two columns) regarding limits in place in all fifty states. Finally, we've provided a chart depicting the contribution limits in place for federal elections.

California Contribution Limits

What You Need to Know Before You Contribute – Fast Facts

Candidates seeking a state office and committees that make contributions to state candidates are subject to contribution limits from a single source. Contributions from affiliated entities are aggregated for purposes of the limits. (Regulation 18215.1.) The chart below shows the current limits per contributor and type of office sought. The primary, general, special, and special run-off elections are considered separate elections.

Per-election Limits on Contributions to State Candidates

(For elections held on or after January 1, 2009)

Contributor	Legislature	Statewide Except Governor	Governor
Person	$3,900	$6,500	$25,900
Small Contributor Committee	$7,800	$12,900	$25,900

Aggregate From all Sources	$53,800	$107,500	$215,000

• Legal Defense Funds

Contributions raised for a legal defense fund are not subject to contribution limits or the voluntary expenditure ceiling. However, a candidate or officeholder may raise, in total, no more than is reasonably necessary to cover attorney's fees and other legal costs related to the proceeding for which the fund is created. (Section 85304; Regulation 18530.4.)

• Recall Elections

A state officeholder who is the subject of a recall may set up a separate committee to oppose the qualification of the recall measure and, if the recall petition qualifies, the recall election. Neither contribution limits nor voluntary expenditure ceilings apply to the committee to oppose the recall that is

- (a) Primary and general are considered separate elections; stated amount may be contributed in each election.
 (b) Candidates participating in "Clean Elections" public financing may not accept contributions after qualifying for public financing program.
 (c) In Arizona, a PAC that has received contributions from 500 or more individuals in amounts of $10 or more in a one-year period may qualify as a "Super PAC." Qualification is valid for two years.
 (d) Direct corporate and/or union contributions are prohibited and/or use of treasury funds and/or dues is prohibited. In these states, the law specifically says that nothing prevents the employees or officers of a corporation from making political contributions through a PAC, using funds from an account that is separate and segregated from corporate accounts. Such contributions are subject to the same limitations placed on other PACs.
 (e) Full public financing is available to qualifying candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. A candidate who wishes to receive public funding may not solicit or accept any private contributions except qualifying contributions.
 (f) In Louisiana, a "Big PAC" is a PAC with over 250 members who contributed over $50 to the PAC during the preceding calendar year and has been certified as meeting that membership requirement.
 (g) In California, a "small contributor committee" is a committee which has been in existence for at least six months, receives contributions from 100 or more persons in amounts of not more than $200 per person, and makes contributions to five or more candidates. (Cal. Govt. Code §85203)
 (h) In Michigan, an "independent committee" must have filed a statement of organization at least 6 months before the election in which the committee wishes to make contributions; must have supported or opposed 3 or more candidates for nomination or election; and must have received contributions from at least 25 persons.
 (i) In Colorado, a "small donor committee" means any political committee that has accepted contributions only from natural persons who each contributed no more than $50 in the aggregate per year.
 (j) Any public utility regulated by the Public Service Commission is prohibited from making political contributions (Ala. Code §10-2A-70.1)
 (k) The text of the statute on contribution limits (KRS §121A.050(1)) states that party contributions to candidates are limited to $1,000 per election. However, the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance's website states that party contributions to candidates are unlimited (<http://www.state.ky.us/agencies/kref/contim.htm>; see footnote 4).
 (l) Vermont's attempt to limit out-of-state contributions to 25% of a candidate's total contributions received was declared unconstitutional on August 18, 2004, by the U.S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals (Landell v. Sorrell, 382 F.3d 91 (2004))

- (m) While these limits are specified in Oklahoma's Ethics Rules, statutes have not been changed to reflect this limit. According to the statutes, any contribution in excess of $5,000 would constitute a criminal violation.
- (n) Corporations are no longer prohibited from making political contributions under New Hampshire law despite the language of NH RSA 664:4. That ban was declared unconstitutional by a federal district court in 1999. A June 6, 2000 letter from Deputy Attorney General Steven M. Houran indicates that the limits on individual contributions now apply to corporate contributions as well.
- (o) In Massachusetts, a "People's Committee" is a PAC that has been in existence for six months, has received contributions from individuals of $140 (adjusted biennially; this amount is for 2006-2007) or less per year, and has contributed to five candidates. It is unclear what advantage there would be to converting to a People's Committee, since the contribution limits are the same.
- (p) Contribution limits are adjusted for inflation at the beginning of each campaign cycle.
- (q) Effective July 1, 2009, decreases to $12,500 (see SF 94, 2009)
- (r) New Mexico enacted new limits on contributions during the 2009 legislative session. These limits take effect on November 3, 2010.
- (s) Illinois enacted new limits on contributions during the 2009 legislative session. These limits take effect on January 1, 2011.

FEDERAL ELECTIONS

Contribution Limits for 2009-10

Donors	Recipients				Special Limits
	Candidate Committee	PAC ¹	State, District and Local Party Committee ²	National Party Committee ³
Individual	$2,400* per election ⁴	$5,000 per year	$10,000 per year combined limit	$30,400* per year	Biennial limit of $115,500* ($45,600 to all candidates and $69,900 ⁵ to all PACs and parties)

PAC Not Multicandidate	$2,400* per election ⁸	$5,000 per year	$10,000 per year combined limit	$30,400* per year

* These limits are indexed for inflation in odd-numbered years.

¹ These limits apply both to separate segregated funds (SSFs) and political action committees (PACs). Affiliated committees share the same set of limits on contributions made and received.

² A state party committee shares its limits with local and district party committees in that state unless a local or district committee's independence can be demonstrated. These limits apply to multicandidate committees only.

³ A party's national committee, Senate campaign committee and House campaign committee are each considered national party committees, and each have separate limits, except with respect to Senate candidates — see Special Limits column.

⁴ Each of the following is considered a separate election with a separate limit: primary election, caucus or convention with the authority to nominate, general election, runoff election and special election.

⁵ No more than $45,600 of this amount may be contributed to state and local parties and PACs.

⁶ This limit is shared by the national committee and the Senate campaign committee.

⁷ A multicandidate committee is a political committee that has been registered for at least six months, has received contributions from more than 50 contributors and — with the exception of a state party committee — has made contributions to at least five federal candidates.

⁸ A federal candidate's authorized committee(s) may contribute no more than $2,000 per election to another federal candidate's authorized committee(s). 2 U.S.C. §432(e)(3)(B) and 11CFR 102.12(c)(2).
